

CE Mark Certification

To Our Customers

We are pleased to advise that Gemite is one of the few manufacturers of specialty construction chemicals and material systems that has gained the right to use the CE Mark for its products under the Construction Products Directive (89/106/EEC) of the European Parliament and Council.

The CE Mark Certification has been accomplished after extensive testing in accordance with the respective EN Standards and after a thorough international audit of the manufacturing facilities. The CE Declarations of Conformity are available for the member countries of the European Union.

Yours truly
